HOW TO WALK THIS MONTH

Keep all five watches. Let Wisdom sharpen the day and Peace close it. When narrative runs hot, do not treat parallel passages as waste — hear the same Lord from more than one angle. When letters appear beside Acts, remember: doctrine travels with missionaries. Read this brief again on the last day and ask one question: did I meet a schedule, or did I meet the Lord of the schedule?

WATCH CHARGE · JANUARY

Do not leave January as a finished checklist. Leave it as a man who kept five watches, honored event time and written time, and let the Word press his household. Carry creation week to Egypt's door into February without dropping the line.

JULY 2026 · MAP / RECAP

July does not babysit you. It takes you from the last visions of a captive prophet to a sleepless Persian king — through the full weight of Ezekiel, the grit of return and rebuild, the thunder of the minor prophets, and the quiet courage of a Jewish queen. You start in Babylon's shadow; you finish with a hammer in one hand and a decree of death hanging over a people God will not abandon.

Dual clocks stand: R = reading day 2026 · E = event time · W = written time. Honor the live index; do not flatten Gospels or letters into a single clock.

THE MONTH IN FIVE MOVEMENTS

Days 1–5 — Opening movement. Empires fall on paper before they fall in history. Daniel 8–12 seals the end; Jeremiah's nations scroll ends with Babylon's doom; Isaiah mocks gods that cannot carry their own statues. Center of gravity: Jer 48:26-47; Jer 49:1-22; Jer 49:23-39.

Days 6–14 — Second movement. Ezekiel's full arc opens — throne-chariot, watchman, glory departing — while Ezra's lists, opposition, and finished temple run alongside. Rebuild is holiness with a census roll, not bricks alone. Center of gravity: Ezek 20; Ezek 21; Ezek 22.

Days 15–27 — Third movement. Nehemiah's wall and the Word (parallel track). Cupbearer to builder; sword and trowel; Torah read until weeping, then feast. The minor prophets preach beside the wall: Joel, Amos, Jonah, Micah, Nahum. Center of gravity: Amos 2; Amos 3; Amos 4.

Days 28–31 — Fourth movement. Esther opens; Habakkuk's faith, Zephaniah's day, Haggai's house, Zechariah's night visions. God rules trowel and throne room on the same page. Center of gravity: Hab 3; Zeph 1; Zeph 2.

Peace track — Peace track — Isaiah's burden, then Hosea's heart, then comfort. Many nights close not with a soft psalm but with judgment oracles that still end in hope. That is July's tone: hard truth, stubborn mercy.

Days 30–31 — Closing movement. Upper Room threshold. HOW TO WALK THIS MONTH

Keep all five watches. Let Wisdom sharpen the day and Peace close it. When narrative runs hot, do not treat parallel passages as waste — hear the same Lord from more than one angle. When letters appear beside Acts, remember: doctrine travels with missionaries. Read this brief again on the last day and ask one question: did I meet a schedule, or did I meet the Lord of the schedule?

WATCH CHARGE · OCTOBER

Do not leave October as a finished checklist. Leave it as a man who kept five watches, honored event time and written time, and let the Word press his household. Carry letters in the storm into November without dropping the line.
